Camp Ramah Wisconsin provides 500+ children and 300+ adults with transformative experiences of vibrant Jewish life seamlessly blended with the joy of summer camp. Ramah campers spend their summer swimming in the lake, playing sports on the courts, creating arts & crafts projects, and so much more! We serve Jewish campers throughout the Midwest with diverse backgrounds and needs that come together to make friends, have fun, develop skills, and enhance their Judaism.

ROLE SUMMARY

We are looking for mental health and special education professionals to join our Camper Care Team as yoetzim (advisors) this summer, working under the guidance of our Director of Camper Care and Inclusion. The Camper Care Team is responsible for providing multilayered care and support for our various camp constituents including campers, staff, and unit heads. Each yoetz is additionally tasked with communicating and collaborating with parents of campers who are exhibiting struggles or challenges throughout the summer.

Our camper care and inclusion team will be comprised of 6-8 individuals, some of whom will be assigned to work with a particular eidah (age group), and some of whom will be specifically designated to provide support for our inclusion campers with special needs of various ages. We are looking for individuals who have a degree in social work, mental health or special education, who can commit to spending 4 or 8 weeks at camp, take initiative, work collaboratively, and are passionate about Jewish camping. We are looking for new team members with integrity, patience, adaptability, sense of humor, enthusiasm, and a commitment to our camp’s mission.

Salary scale begins at $750 / week, with subsequent additions based on relevant camp experience and number of weeks in camp. Tuition discounts for camper-aged children also factored in. Travel reimbursement, childcare for precamper dependents, and room-and-board for family members are all provided.
